

We love the vast island
complete with an integrated steamer.

ROOM WITH A VIEW

"An intuitive design allows this kitchen to make the most of lush surroundings. The owner wanted a refined, clean-lined, modern but informal kitchen that took optimum advantage of the outstanding views. Light floods in from the expansive windows and introduces bright green tones onto the crisp neutral palette. Modern, clean lines are simplistic yet edgy, letting the space flow naturally to the outdoor area. Practically, the layout needed to cater for the needs of multiple cooks. A vast central island provides ample space for preparing and serving meals, complete with a steamer and second sink. This, together with the cooktop offset to the oven, allows lots of people to comfortably work in the kitchen at the same time. Plenty of storage was a must-have but top cabinets would have obstructed the window view. Instead, the strategic use of wide drawers, two pull-out pantries and a corner appliance cabinet enhances the spacious look and feel. The result is a light, bright and open kitchen that is simply a pleasure to spend time in."
